

Peacock-Harper Culinary History Friends presents the:
Second Annual Jean Robbins Lecture & Luncheon

A Frappalachian Frolic: Appalachian Cuisine with a French Twist

by Susi Gott Sèguret

---

Friday, April 5, 2019 * 11:30 a.m. * Roanoke Country Club

---

$35 registration fee must be received by March 27

Menu:

Fresh spring greens with cornbread croutons, crispy bacon, apple cider walnut vinaigrette

Ramp and shiitake mushroom quiche served with swiss chard and pickled chard stems

French apple tart with sorghum crème anglaise

Author of Appalachian Appetite, Recipes from the Heart of America, Susi Gott Sèguret, born and raised in Appalachia, graduated from the Cordon Bleu and The Université de Reims while playing American roots music across Europe. The result? A delightful blend of Appalachian ingredients with a French technique!